Introduction

Our Sustainability Sub-Strategy outlines our commitment to acting in response to the climate and ecological emergency, while supporting the University's mission of excellence in education and research, for the benefit of individuals and communities.

Priority 13: Our Community

We all have a responsibility to contribute to reducing our environmental impact, and through creating the right environments, developing new ways of thinking and encouraging and supporting changes in behaviour our community will be able to play its part. Engaging with students, staff, partners, campus unions, alumni and friends in ways that encourage participation, increase understanding, celebrate relevant education and research, and empower all members of our community to support each other and the development of positive solutions by working collaboratively will maximise individual actions. Through aligned working and common aspirations, our Students Union will maximise our ability to connect, share, encourage and embrace change with our student body, as representatives of the greatest proportion of our community.

Communications will be targeted, effective and prominent, reinforcing the need for urgent, decisive action and underlining the University's commitment to the climate and ecological action. In communicating the realities of the climate and ecological emergency and the work we are undertaking to contribute to the global challenge, will be communicated in accessible, transparent and meaningful ways. Our approach to design, print and to our IT infrastructure will be reviewed, to seek opportunities to reduce the environmental impacts of our communication work, embedding principles into policy, setting examples that can be followed by all.

Objective: Support our community as we normalise sustainability by emphasising environmentally-conscious behaviours and providing the mechanisms to empower prospective and existing students, staff, alumni and partners to think sustainably and integrate it into their lives.

- Reciprocal communication and engagement will drive behavioural change amongst our community and we will champion sustainable and environmental choices, sharing institutional and community sustainability progress and successes.
- We will help to inform our community and empower change through education and engagement, and by sharing sustainability metrics and data we will maximise gains from behavioural change.
- The ways we communicate, our processes and collateral choices will demonstrate our commitment to the climate and ecological emergency.

- Reinforcing our local partnerships will ensure a coherent and informed approach to our work on engagement and increase our reach.
